

Dynamite in a letter

Titus 1v1-4

Sunday 19th April

- Mirror, mirror on the wall
- The eternal author
- Subversive lives
- Dynamite in a letter

Fellowship group questions

These questions are meant to help us apply the verses to our lives and ask the question— ‘what difference should this make?’ To do this properly, try to be honest with one another and not give the ‘expected’ answer!

- Cretan culture valued its greek gods, especially Zeus. As a result, Cretans, like Zeus, were known for being liars and covering or watering down the truth. If you looked back on 21st Century culture from the year 4001, what would we be seen to value? How do these values shape you?
- Read Titus 1v1-4. For Paul, being a ‘servant of God’ is a big deal. Is it for you? Looking at your life, how can you see that?
- Look at John 13v13-17 together. How does our view of the Lord and of ourselves shape the life we lead?
- God is Lord of all eternity, we are here for just a moment. Yet, he gives us hope of eternity. What issues of life have most occupied your mind this week? How should the eternal perspective shape these things?
- Paul says big things about God’s purposes for him. How do you think Titus would relate to Paul after reading v1-4? How much of a privilege is it for you to read the Bible, and Titus in particular?
- The big issue here is faith and truth changing our lives. Since you have been a believer, how have you grown? (note—this is hard to answer and be objective about!) What areas of your life are you struggling to allow the things you believe to change?

Pray for one another about these things and these areas!